Michigan City Is Buried Under Snow

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heavy snow piled up in the northeastern section of the nation today while intense cold cracked records.

A storm dropped 14 inches of snow on Nantucket Island off the Massachusetts coast, and stacked up 10 inches in Montpelier, Vt., 9 inches in Palmouth, Mass., and 7 inches in Bennington, Vt., and Rumford, Maine.

Muskegon, Mich., plodded and plowed through almost 3 feet of snow, but the end of the storm there was in sight.

A mass of frigid air enveloped the North from the Rockies to the Atlantic Coast, forcing temperatures under the zero level in at least 13 states. Readings ranged down to -24 at Bemidji, Minn.

Only southern Florida and the Lower Rio Grande Valley escaped the spreading freeze.

The -12 in Rockford, Ill., shattered a record for the date that had been set 39 years ago and the -11 in Peoria, Ill., broke a 62-year-old record.

Chicagoans shivered through their seventh consecutive day of zero or lower readings, a record run for December. The thermometer registered -6 at Midway Airport early in the day and -11 at O'Hare Airport.

The arctic blasts causes sufferings by animals and humans alike. More than 120 head of cattle were stranded in the Missouri River near Kennebec, S.D. The cattle — reported standing chest deep in the icy stream — apparently had wandered to an island-like sand bar and had been trapped by rising water.

State Rests in Texarkana Murder Case

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — The state rested its case in the first degree murder trial of Clinton E. Ottwell, 29, of Texarkana, Wednesday after a State Police official testified that a bullet casing found at the shooting scene came from a rifle owned by a co-defendant.

Capt. Paul McDonald of the State Police said ballistics tests showed the casing came from an M1 Carbine owned by Leroy Callahan, 44, of De Queen, charged with first degree murder as an accessory. He was pleaded guilty, but will be given a jury trial later.

The state alleges that David Roden, 43, of Hochatown, Okla., fired the shot that killed James Henry Wallace of Texarkana last July 4 while he chased persons who attempted to rob his father-in-law, Henry Hooks, a Texarkana grocer.

Ottwell also is charged as an accessory.

Other witnesses testified earlier that the rifle was found buried near Callahan's cabin north of Broken Bow, Okla. McDonald also testified that a bullet found embedded in a door at Hooks' house was fired from a .38 caliber revolver also owned by Callahan. Earlier testimony reported that the revolver was recovered from a woman friend of Callahan's in Tulsa, Okla.

Byron Salsman, 24, an encyclopedia salesman from Norman, Okla., testified earlier that he warned Hooks and Wallace, as they neared Hooks' house, that someone was hiding in shrubs outside Hooks' house at Texarkana.

A man fired three shots, fled to a white station wagon driven by another man, and Wallace and Salsman leaped into Wallace's car and gave chase, Salsman testified.

Callahan testified earlier that he was driving the car being chased, that Roden was with him, and that when they were stopped by oncoming traffic at a one-lane bridge, Roden jumped out of the car with an M1 Carbine and shot at the pursuing car.

The state presented a total of 25 witnesses, 18 of them Wednesday.

GE Is Settling Out of Court

NEW YORK (AP) — The General Electric Co. has agreed to nearly $11 million in out-of-court settlements of 32 suits filed as a result of the 1961 antitrust decisions.

U.S. Dist. Judge Sylvester Ryan approved the settlements Wednesday.

The largest, almost $6 million, was made to Consolidated Edison Co. of New York.

Ghana Embassy Sealed Off by Russians

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet police sealed off approaches to the Ghanaian embassy today in the wake of Wednesday's demonstration by 500 Ghanaian and other African students.

Half a dozen African students and about 100 curious Russians gathered on the narrow street leading to the embassy. Police chased the Russians away and prevented male African students from approaching the embassy.

Two girl students were allowed through the street barrier but found the embassy closed, with no one answering the bell.

Several newsmen also were allowed to pass but were blocked by police at the embassy entrance.

Ambassador J. B. Elliott's secretary said over the telephone that approaches to the embassy were closed in order to permit repairs to doors and locks that were broken during the demonstration.

When they are repaired, she said, the embassy will reopen. Outside doors, however, seemed undamaged.

Students demonstrated over a report that a Ghanaian student had been killed by a Russian trying to prevent his marrying a Russian girl.

Vyacheslav Yelutin, the Soviet minister of higher education, told the students at a meeting the dead student, Asare Addo, 29, was found apparently frozen to death Friday in a field outside Moscow. The Soviet news agency Tass reported that an autopsy indicated he had been drinking.

Says Faubus Opposed to Any Change

ROGERS, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus is opposed to any form of reorganization of county government, Rep. Hardy Croxton of Benton County said Wednesday.

Croxton said, "It appears to me that he (Faubus) is just against any form of reorganization, which is often the case of anybody in power. They can't see where they're doing anything wrong."

He was replying in an interview to remarks Faubus made Tuesday that county consolidation was not the solution to the high cost of county government.

Faubus said consolidation would not reduce costs five percent, and "I'd be glad to debate Croxton on this."

Croxton said he would not shy from debate on anything he believed in or said, but he added that he has never advocated arbitrary reduction of the number of counties by consolidation.

He said he has advocated reorganization of county government through initiation of some sort of "county manager" plan based on the city manager form of government.

But county consolidation is not the best solution to the need for better county government, Croxton said.

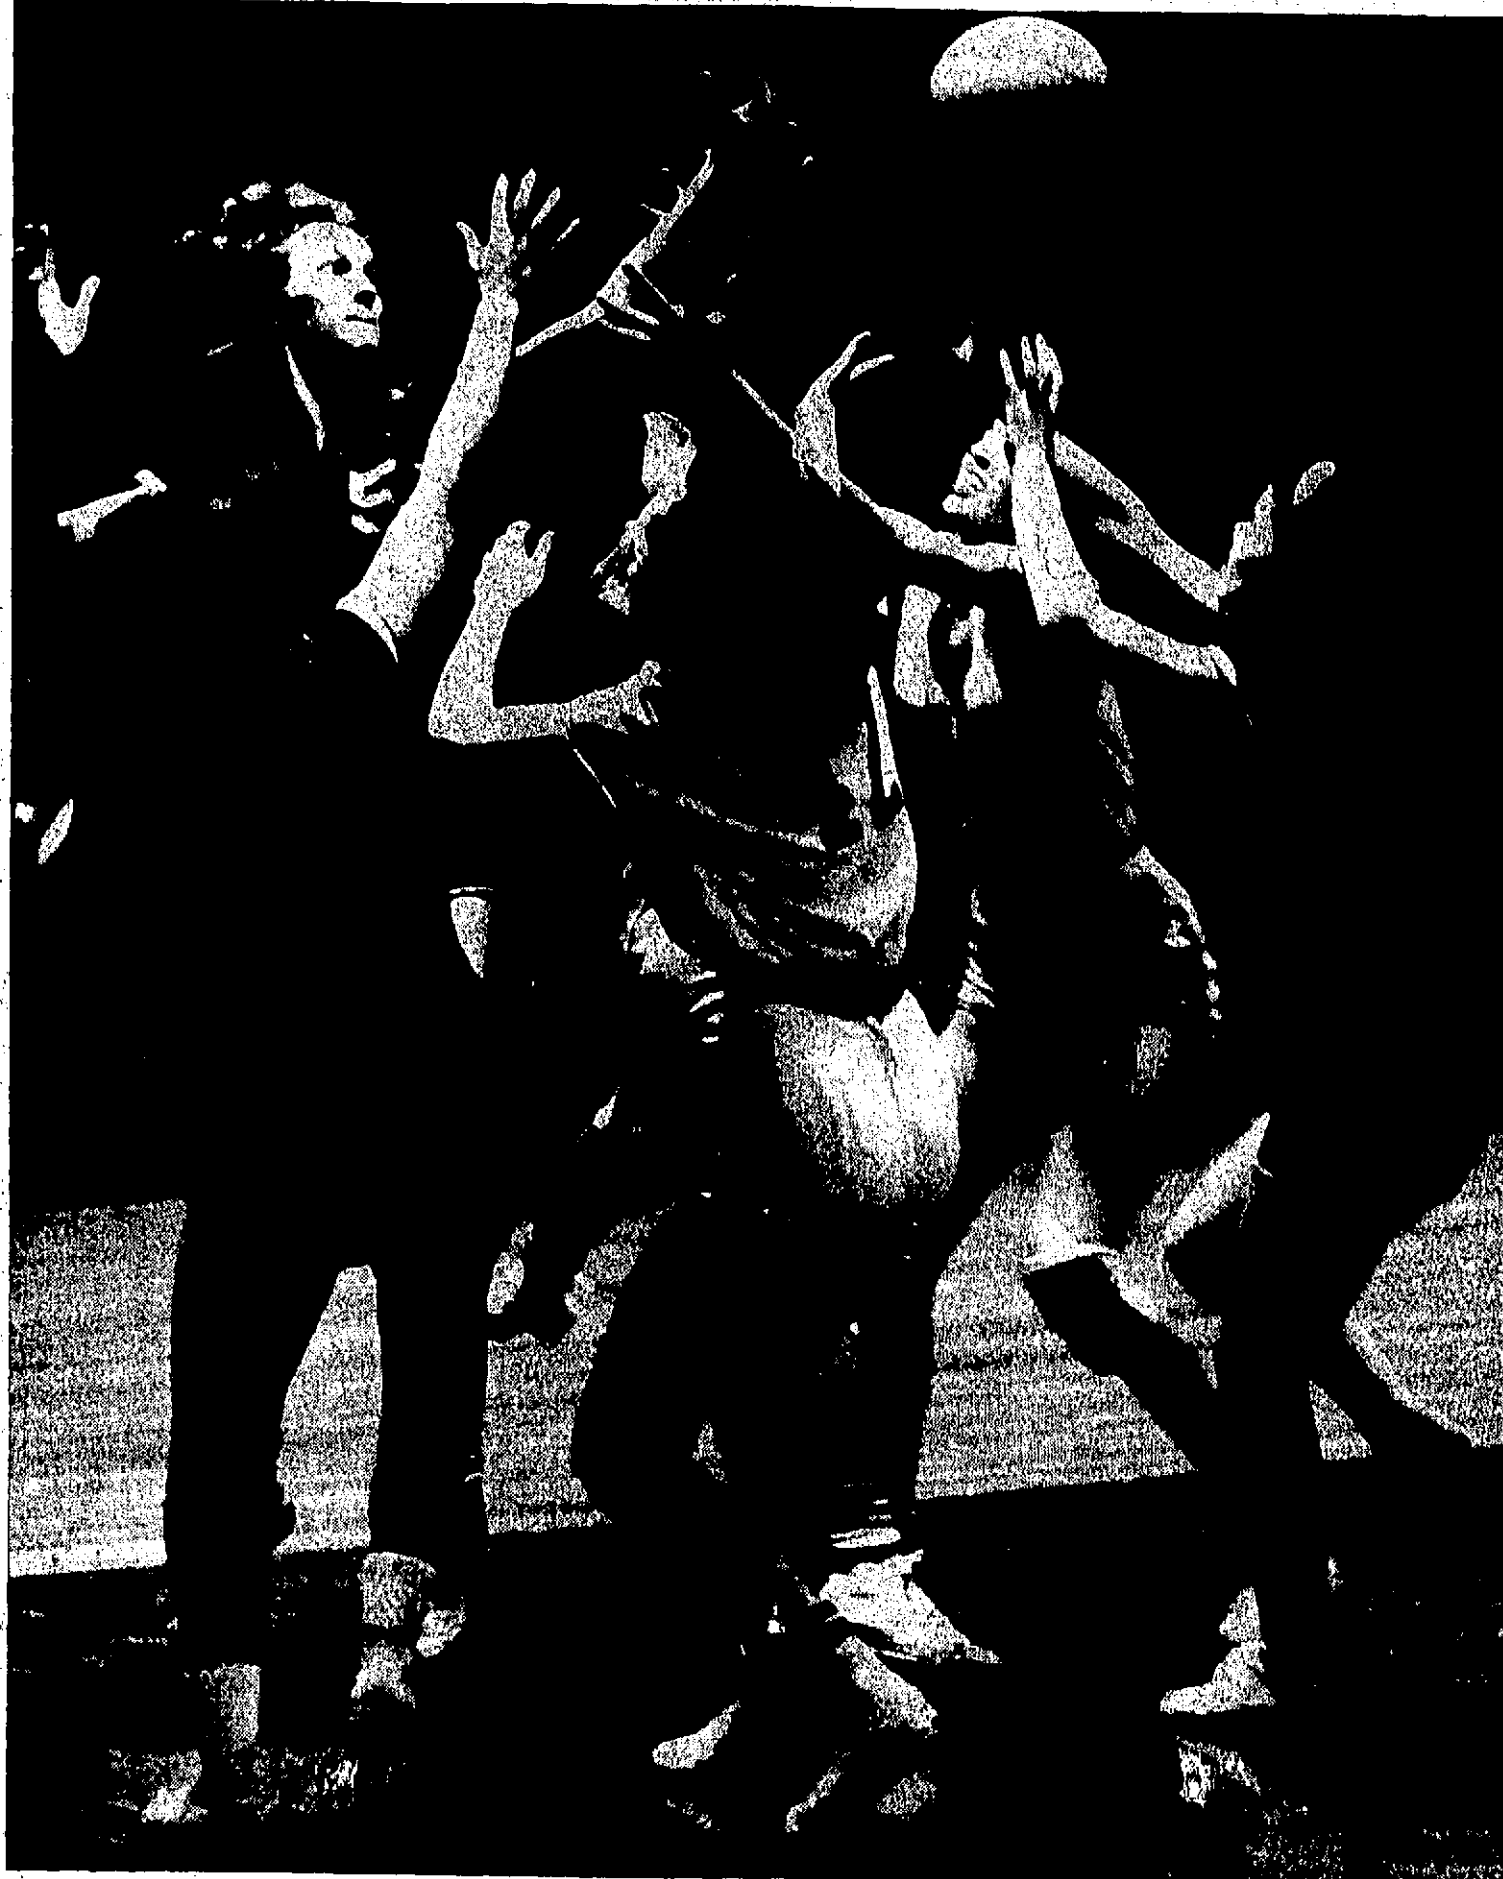

"It is far more important to look at the form of government that counties now have and reorganize that," he said.

Accused Kidnaper Faces 2nd Charge

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — Richard Tyler Lane, 31, of Reno, Nev., charged with kidnapping at Little Rock, Ark., was bound over from justice court to district court Tuesday to face third degree arson charges.

He is charged with setting fire to an automobile Nov. 14 at Carson City. He has pleaded innocent. No trial date has been set.

Lane is charged in the kidnapping of a Little Rock hospital employee who says three persons attempted to extort from him the hospital room number of a man charged in the fatal shooting of a North Little Rock policeman.

Man, Woman Shot to Death

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A man and a woman were found shot to death in an apartment over a garage Monday night.

They were identified by police as Stanley A. Williams, 42, who lived at the apartment, and Mrs. Paula Blann, 34, of Scott.

W. H. Landthorp, a friend of Williams, said he went to the apartment and found Williams lying on the bathroom floor and the woman's body on the bed. A shotgun was found on the floor.

Coroner Howard Dishongh ordered autopsies performed on the bodies.

Pope Paul Plans Visit to India

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW Associated Press Staff Writer NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Pope Paul VI has accepted an invitation to visit India for his second break with the tradition against papal travel abroad, officials said Tuesday night.

The Pope will make a pilgrimage to the Holy Land Jan. 4-6, ending a period of 150 years in which papal travel has been restricted to Italy.

Officials at the Vatican declined to confirm the report, but Vatican circles said there was a good chance Pope Paul might attend the International Eucharistic Congress in Bombay next November.

Indian sources said the invitation was extended by President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan through India's envoy at the Vatican.

Predominantly Hindu India has seven million Roman Catholics, including many in Bombay. In recent years popes have sent personal messages to eucharistic congresses. Pope John XXIII addressed the last congress in Munich, Germany, by a telephone hookup.

It has been traditional for the Pope to delegate a cardinal to represent him at the congresses. With the unwritten restriction on foreign travel broken by the Holy Land pilgrimage, there would be no reason for Pope Paul not to attend the Bombay congress.

Malaya Accuses Indonesia

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (AP) — Malaysia's prime minister accused Indonesia today of sending saboteurs into the new federation to shatter the country's economy by destroying public service facilities.

Tunku Abdul Rahman told Parliament 37 Indonesian agents had been arrested in Malaya and Singapore and large quantities of arms, explosives and miscellaneous sabotage equipment had been seized.

McCrory May Get a Shoe Plant

MCCRORY, Ark. (AP) — A new shoe manufacturing plant that will employ a maximum of 400 persons may locate at McCrory, the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission said today.

McCrory city officials declined to name the firm and said its location at McCrory would depend on the outcome of a labor survey and on a bond election to finance a 50,000 square foot plant on a 10-acre site. No amount or date was set for the bond election.

The McCrory plant would be an expansion of the 50-year-old parent firm, which already has three branches in operation.

The announcement said the plant would begin operation with 150 employees and expand to employ 300 women and 100 men.

GOP Assault on Spending Budget Assured

By JACK BELL Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional Republicans are loading their elephant guns for an assault on the spending budget which President Johnson will submit to Congress in January. Johnson told a news conference Wednesday he intends to cut every possible dime of waste out of the new budget but doesn't know yet what the expenditures total will be.

Informed members of Congress think the total is certain to go over a record $100 billion despite Johnson's efforts to keep the amount down in an election year.

At best the new budget will be only an estimate of how much revenue the government will receive and pay out in the fiscal year beginning next July 1. While spending can be estimated fairly accurately, it is more difficult to forecast revenue.

With a report in hand that the gross national product is passing the $600 billion mark, Johnson conceivably could shave the projected deficit with an optimistic revenue estimate.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois made it clear Republicans are going to watch this process carefully and be ready to pounce on anything they believe they can characterize as excess spending.

Dirksen suggested at a news conference Wednesday that the President might send Congress a pared-down budget which would not stand up for a full year's operations and then ask Congress in 1965 to close the gap with additional appropriations.

"I am going to have to have some sound assurances that there are not going to be such supplemental requests for funds before I go along with any spending estimates that are submitted in January," he said.

Johnson said that in trimming the budget he is going to be careful not to sacrifice U.S. security and will not pass up new programs that are needed.

Will Use Money to Help Needy

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — members of the officers rotary wing a vistor course at Ft. Rucker usually pitch in on a graduation party. This year they collected $165, but there'll be no party.

The base banned all parties in respect to the late President John F. Kennedy.

The money, instead, was sent to 13-month-old Margaret Ann Langford and her family to have a happier Christmas.

Margaret Ann is the only survivor of a recent train-car crash which killed 11 members of her family.

He Wanted Job for His Wife

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The 1963 Legislature routinely passed a bill creating a court of general sessions in Washington County.

It provides for a $5,000 yearly salary for the judge who would be appointed by the governor on the recommendation of the Washington County legislator—Rep. J. Emmet Wood, author of the bill.

So Tuesday Wood sent in his recommendation, and as the law said, the governor endorsed it. The appointee? Mrs. J. Emmet Wood.

Senate Beats Down Slash on Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate beat back today two attempts to reduce the $3,299,500,000 foreign aid money bill, apparently heeding President Johnson's plea against further cuts in funds "needed for our own security and well being."

It rejected 55 to 28 an amendment by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., to reduce funds for supporting economic assistance to defense pact allies from $380 million to the $300 million voted by the House.

It next defeated 53 to 34 an amendment by Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., to cut these funds from $380 to $350 million. Supporting assistance is used to aid the economies of nations on the borders of the Sino-Soviet bloc to enable them to maintain larger military forces than their own resources will allow.

On the Morse amendment the party breakdown was 39 Democrats and 16 Republicans opposed, 18 Democrats and 10 Republicans in favor.

Morse contended "hundreds of millions of dollars" are being wasted on such assistance to Formosa, South Korea and other countries. He said the military forces of most of them could be "licked by ten Boy Scout troops" and their real defenses rest with U.S. military troops.

Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R. I., floor manager for the bill, argued that the funds enable countries on the periphery of communism to provide soldiers, who, should the program be eliminated, would have to be replaced by Americans.

The Morse amendment was the first to come up as the Senate reached the showdown stage on the badly battered bill.

Assistant Senate Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey said that, with the President's prestige "on the line," he felt there are sufficient votes to reject a series of amendments aimed at reducing the $3,299,500,000 measure to the $2,810,700,000 voted by the House.

Snow Threat Accompanies Cloud Cover

A cloud cover moved into Arkansas today, bringing marginally higher temperatures, but also the threat of light snow and rain.

Northern Arkansas shivered under temperatures as low as four degrees above zero this morning. Among the highest minimums reported was 27 at Texarkana.

A little warmer weather was predicted for tonight, with a chance of light snow or freezing drizzle in the central, northwest and northeast sections.

The forecast called for occasional light snow and freezing drizzle mainly in the north portion tonight and Friday morning.

Overnight lows will be 18 to 28.

Maximums Wednesday ranged from the low 20s in Northeast Arkansas to the mid 40s in the southern part of the state. Portions of north Arkansas had light snow flurries Wednesday.

The Eisenhowers plan to stay in the $175,000 desert home for about five months.

The former chief executive and his wife, Mamie, arrived Tuesday.

Snow drifting over back roads meant a day off from school for about 3,800 children in Erie County, Pa.

Snow squalls persisted from the Great Lakes eastward to New England.

The mercury dipped to freezing—32—in Tampa, Fla., and to 27 in Jacksonville.

Readings in the frozen north included: Indianapolis -10; Milwaukee, Wis., and Limestone, Maine, -9; Cincinnati, Ohio, -7; Crossville, Tenn., -4; St. Louis -1.

The snowstorm toppled Muskegon's 1962 month of December record of 54.2 inches. The record so far this month is 69.4 inches.

The Weather Bureau measured 15.7 inches in the 24 hours ending at 7 p.m. Wednesday and a record 17.9 inches in the 24 hours ending 12 hours earlier.

Snowplow crews in suburban Muskegon Heights gave up about noon Wednesday after plowing all streets three times in 24 hours with scant progress.

Muskegon main roads were passable, but few side streets were touched by plows. County schools could not send buses for rural pupils.

Muskegon public schools remained open, but Supt. Richard B. Warren left it to the discretion of parents whether to send pupils back to class after the noon recess.

Thickening ice trapped six freighters in or near the Detroit River, which links Lake St. Clair with Lake Erie.

The huge mass of cold air covering northern sections of the nation invaded much of the Southeast, dropping temperatures to near zero in some areas and to freezing along parts of the Gulf Coast from northern Florida westward to south central Texas.

The mercury again plunged to sub-zero levels in most of the Midwest, marking a week of unseasonable cold, along with snow in many areas. It was 17 below in International Falls, Minn., and in Illinois one of the lowest marks was -14 in Bradford. Gusty winds swept much of the cold belt.

It was the coldest day of the season in Chicago with 7 below, the seventh straight day of sub-zero readings, a record for December.

Temperatures dropped to near zero in Louisville, Ky., and it was 27 in Mobile, Ala. In Florida, low marks included 30 in Tallahassee, 41 in Tampa and 50 in Miami. Atlanta and Chattanooga, Tenn., shivered in the unseasonable cold, with readings of 12 and 13, respectively.

Near zero weather prevailed in sections of the Northeast while generally normal temperatures prevailed in the Far Western sections.

Senate Beats

"It will be struggle and a tight squeeze," the Minnesotan told a reporter, "but I think we can make it."

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen predicted, however, that the Senate would whack more money from the bill before passage late today. The Senate was called in three hours early for final debate on the controversial bill.

Humphrey said he was confident the Senate would uphold an appropriations committee provision knocking out a House amendment banning export-import bank guarantees for private bank financing of sales of wheat and other surplus commodities to Communist countries.

Dirksen said he had been told that if the Senate does not go along with the House amendment on a roll call vote today "there will be no bill" since both houses will have to agree on a final version of the measure.

Dirksen added, however, that he had heard such threats but "they sometimes fade away in the shadow of the Christmas tree." Leaders are preparing a resolution under which Congress would adjourn Friday and return to work for its second session Jan. 7.

Johnson's letter, addressed Tuesday to Chairman Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., of the Senate Appropriations Committee, was read to the Senate Wednesday by Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., floor manager for the bill.

It appealed to the committee to recommend the full $3.6 billion voted in the previous authorization bill. While the committee voted only $3,299,500,000 in new appropriations, it approved the reappropriation of $209 million in additional funds unspent from last year to make a total of $3,508,500,000 available for the current fiscal year.

Construction Boom Likely to Continue

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Demands of a growing population and a prospering economy are counted upon to keep the seemingly endless construction boom going strong in 1964.

An increasing number of doubters have been wondering out loud lately if a housing and office surplus wasn't in the making. Vacancies in new apartment and office buildings have been increasing in several cities as available floor space zoomed.

But those in the construction business are confident the nation's needs as a whole are still not met in these, and especially in some other, lines.

And the Commerce Department also forecasts that the industry will have a banner year in 1964, helped along by a big gain in public projects.

Contractors insist that a growing population and the spread from cities to suburbs have built up a backlog of demand in many areas for houses, streets, schools, hospitals, churches, water and sewer systems, and shopping centers. Some of this will be satisfied by private investment, much of it by spending of local, state and federal governments.

The Commerce Department puts 1962 spending for construction at $58.8 billion. It rose by 6.6 per cent this year to $62.6 billion. The department estimates 1964 will see a 5 per cent rise to $65.6 billion.

But government's share of this spending will be a record $20.2 billion, a gain of 8 per cent over 1962. Most of the increase will be at the state and local levels, with school construction up 9 per cent to $3.3 billion, and outlays for public hospitals and other institutions up 17 per cent.

Construction contracts jumped to a record $4.3 billion in October, F. W. Dodge Corp., construction news specialist, reported. All major segments of the industry were included in the strong advance, putting the first 10 months of the year 10 per cent above the like period of 1962.

The housing boom that marked 1963 and brought some worries of possible over-building will continue, but at a slower rate of gain, the Commerce Department believes. It thinks spending for nonfamily houses and apartments will be up 3 per cent next year to $26.5 billion, with 1,590,000 private units being started. The increase this year over last was 8 per cent, for a total of 1,545,000 units. To this can be added about 25,000 farm houses and 35,000 public housing units.

Idlewild Soon to Change to Kennedy

NEW YORK (AP) — Idlewild Airport will become John F. Kennedy International Airport Tuesday.

It will be the third name in 20 years for the airport, which has never been named Idlewild officially. Idlewild was the name of the golf course where the airport was built. Mayor Robert F. Wagner signed a law changing the name Wednesday.

Equality in Space Rocketry
LONDON (AP)—An authoritative reference book on aviation suggested today that the United States and Russia have attained a measure of equality in space rocketry.
The latest edition of "Jane's All the World's Aircraft" said Russia's space program in the past year has not gone with its customary smoothness.
The book suggested the Russians had failed to achieve orbital rendezvous with their "space twin" flight.
"By comparison," Jane's said "America's mercury man-in-space program far exceeded its original — more limited — design objectives with the final 22-orbit flight of Gordon Cooper, while the Mariner 2 space probe sent back invaluable, if depressing, data concerning conditions on the planet Venus..."

Sickiness Is Featured on Home Screens
By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—The home screens were full of sickness, maladjustment and unhappiness Tuesday night.
"Mr. Novak" struggled nobly for an hour trying to help a disturbed boy from a broken home. At the end, he sadly abandoned his salvage operations—the boy ran away and Mr. Novak went back to classes.
"The Richard Boone Show" a half-hour later on NBC had an interminable, rambling tale about a prize fighter after release from four years in a mental institution. It was full of confusing flashbacks, but apparently he was trying to find himself.

This sad saga was followed immediately on ABC by "The Fugitive," which centered on a boy with a retarded mentality. The boy was suspected of attacking a woman who had been his friend and benefactor.
Unfortunately these are the sort of themes one encounters more often than any others on evening television these days. They may also explain why light-hearted comedy shows are at the very top of the popularity lists. A viewer can feel pretty low after a full evening of vicarious pain and anguish.
CBS has postponed its special, "The Law and Lee Oswald" to Sunday, Dec. 9. Mae West will be making one of her very rare television appearances on an upcoming "Mr. Ed" episode. Adlai E. Stevenson will be next Sunday's "Meet The Press" guest on NBC.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus said Tuesday the Commission on Co-ordination of Higher Education will study the possibility of setting up a junior college program in Arkansas. Part of the funds approved for college construction in a federal aid bill passed last After limping along since September, NBC's new Western, "Temple Houston," has undergone a change of format. The new emphasis is on comedy.

Jack Benny had his annual Christmas shopping show on CBS Tuesday night. It seemed as if I had seen it before—many times. But the cheap jokes, the long pauses were just as amusing as ever. Benny somehow always is.

Rubber Plant to Vote on Union
BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP) — About 165 employees of the Seiberling Rubber Co. were expected to vote today on whether they want to be represented by the United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America.
It is the union's second attempt to organize the workers in the production, maintenance and laboratory departments of the plant. In April 1962 employees voted 72-28 against union representation.
The plant opened in July 1961. It makes rubber soles and heels for shoes and plastic auto floor mats.
The week is for junior colleges, Faubus said.

That Thud You Heard Was NYU Falling

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

THUD! Thud. The sounds you just heard were seventh-ranked NYU stumbling again, and ninth-ranked Toledo falling for the first time.

The bigger sound came from Staten Island in N. Y., where NYU tripped over little Wagner College, and bowed 77-76 Wednesday night on Hank Pedro's jump shot with five seconds remaining in overtime.

The smaller sound came from Philadelphia, where Toledo — NYU's first conqueror — ran into an aggressive Villanova team led

Senior Girls Win, Magnolia Advances

By CARTER HARDAGE
Hope Star Sports Editor

Wednesday night the first round of the Hope Holiday Tournament got under way with Magnolia outclassing the Bradley Bears 64-50. Hope's Lady Cats hammering down Emmet 43-26, and Spring Hill stunning the Eagles of Emmet 45-35.

Hope's Senior Girls moved into the lead position at the first and kept themselves a comfortable margin throughout the match. Their win places them in the semi-finals with Spring Hill Friday night. Spring Hill drew a bye for the first round.

Shirley Smith was high for the Girls with 16 points. Carolyn Hatfield had 11, and her sister Annette had racked up 10. Wake had 12 for Emmet.

Strong favorite Magnolia came within inches of being sucked under with four minutes to play when the Bears edged up to within one point of them, but their poise while under fire brought them out of the jam, and they went on to capture it 64-50.

High point man was Tollett, with 20, and Christmas was assistant gunner with 18. Weems of Bradley had 15.

The Spring Hill Bears used strong ball control to accomplish their task of downing the Emmet Eagles, who previously had suffered only one defeat. Kidd racked up 17 points for the winners in the contest, and Faulkner had 8 for the losers.

Ohio State Has Best Attendance

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Ohio State, a traditional powerhouse at the turnstiles, led the nation's colleges to a record football attendance of over 22 million in 1963, despite the cancellation of 34 games because of the assassination of President Kennedy.

Statistics released today by the NCAA Service Bureau, show a record jump of 1,009,932 over the 1962 season, pushing the total attendance to 22,237,094. The NCAA estimates the canceled games would have added 268,900 to the total.

The attendance marked the 10th consecutive year in which college football has recorded gains. In 1953, attendance was 16,681,731.

Ohio State, meanwhile, was the individual leader for the 12th time in 13 years, although Michigan had the highest attendance count. Michigan is the only team to interrupt the Buckeyes' domination, winning the title in 1957.

Ohio State was No. 1 with an average attendance of 83,205 per game, an increase of 264 a game over the 1962 figure. Michigan attracted 424,728 to the Buckeyes' 416,023, but played seven home games to Ohio State's five.

Louisiana State was second in average attendance at 66,141, with Michigan State No. 3 at 64,319. The rest of the top ten consisted of Wisconsin, Michigan, Texas, Minnesota, Iowa, Washington and Southern California. Four other schools also averaged over 50,000-a-game—Oklahoma, Illinois, Notre Dame and Georgia Tech.

Illinois, bound for the Rose Bowl, recorded the biggest jump over last season, averaging a gain of 16,336 a game. Southern Methodist was second with a 13,532 increase and Stanford third with a 13,160 pickup.

UCLA and Tulane were on the other side of the ledger, with the biggest declines. UCLA fell 10,792 a game and Tulane 10,552.

The biggest sectional gain was made by the Midwest while the Southwest had the biggest percentage increase and the South the highest attendance in the country for the sixth consecutive year—the only section over five million.

Midwest games drew 310,313 more than 1962 for a total of 4,911,298 to 5,755,967 for the South an increase in Dixie of 117,820. The Southwest recorded a 13 per cent rise to 2,501,358, a jump of 238,234.

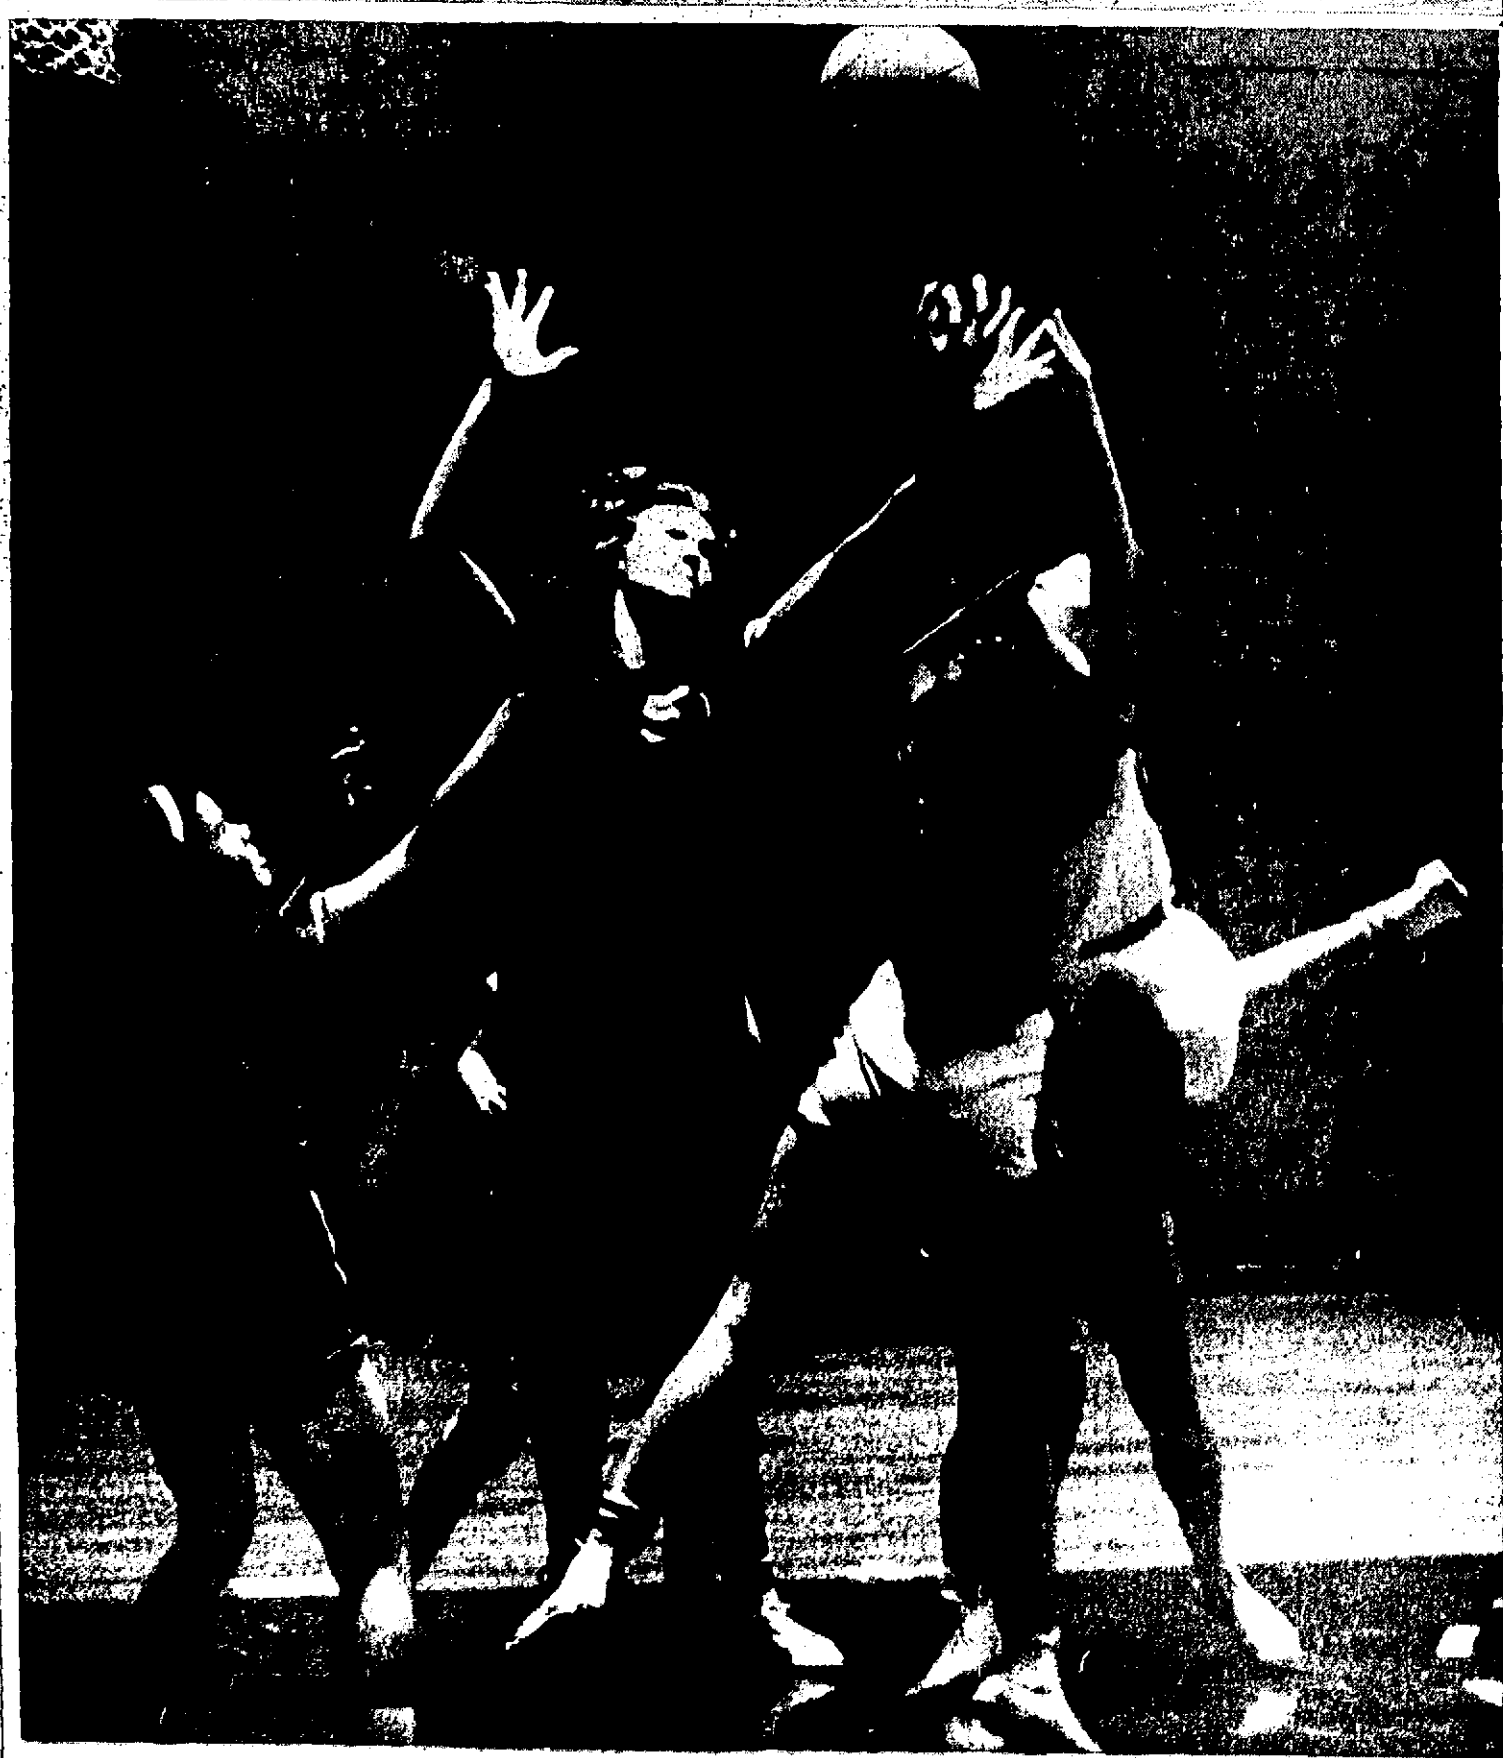

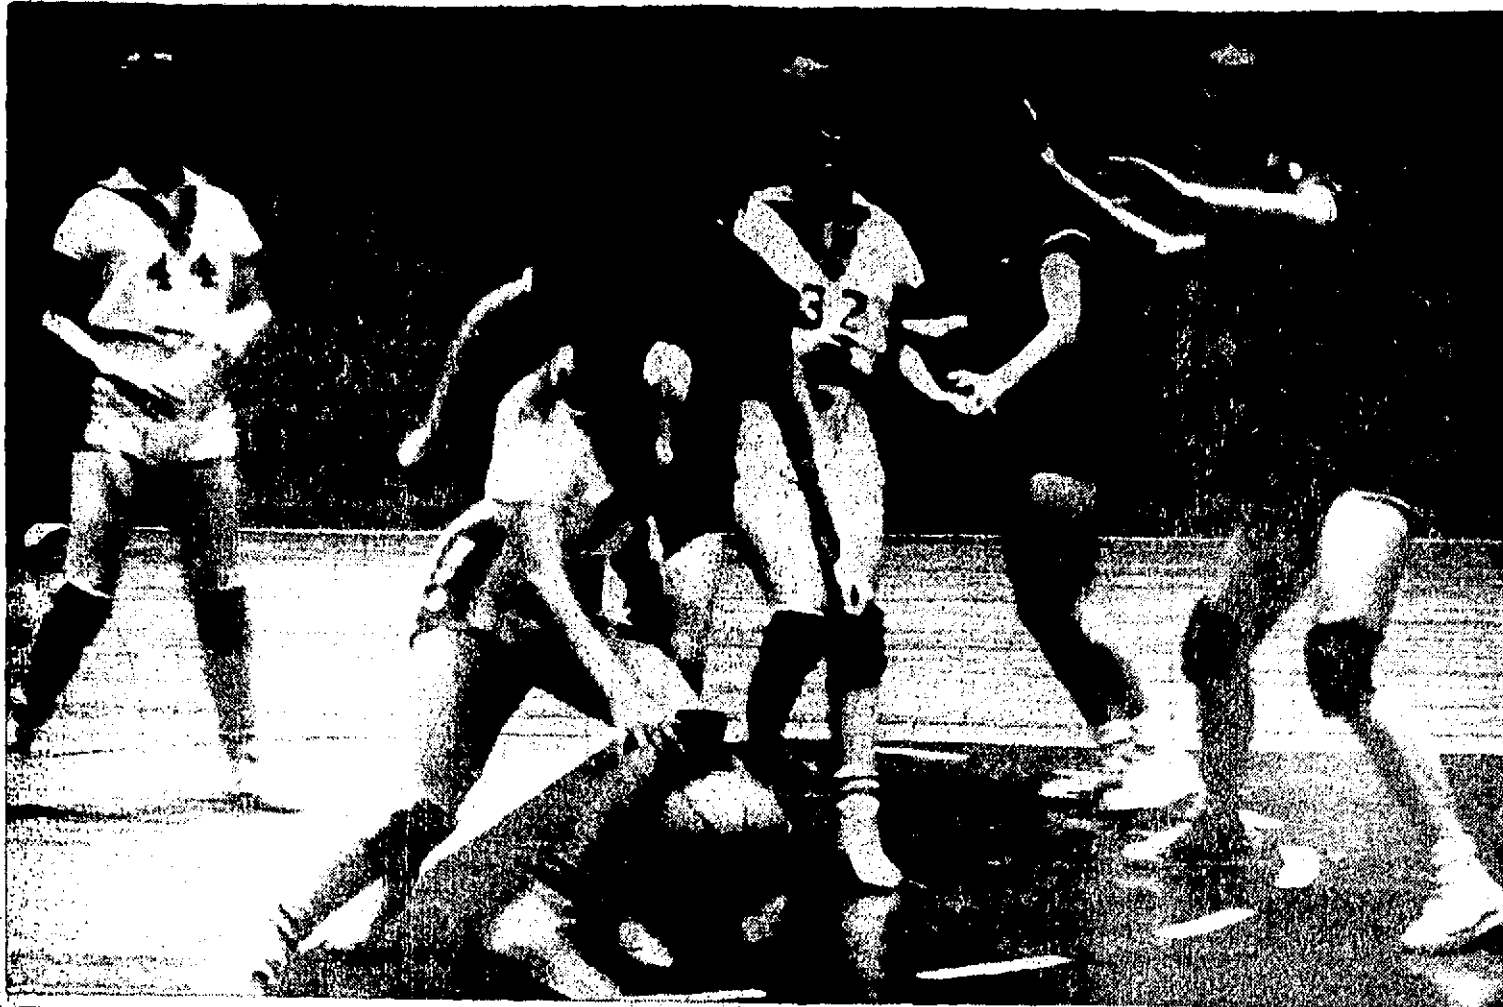

Eight conferences showed increases—Big Ten, Big Eight, Southwest, Ivy, Missouri Valley, Mid American, Southern and Big Six. Three showed losses—Atlantic Coast, Western Athletic and Southeastern.

Bobcats and Spring Hill Play Tonight

By CARTER HARDAGE
Hope Star Sports Editor

The second night of play in the Holiday Tourney is tonight, as the first round draws to a close, and the quarter-finals begin.

The Bobcats, who drew a bye for the first go-around, will be featured in a match with Spring Hill, winner last night in a match with Emmet. Game time for this one will be 8:30.

The evening begins at 6:00 with a girl's game matching Guernsey against Kirby.

The second game should be a real drawing card. It pits the Guernsey Boys against Kirby in a game that could be a real knock-down-drag-out.

The crowds of last night were extremely disappointing, and almost got to the point of being embarrassing. Fans are strongly urged to come out tonight. The Cats play, and the Guernsey-Kirby game should be something to see.

BENEDICT ARNOLD

THE TWISTED SABER

Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

THE STORY: Benedict has been chosen captain of a company of Connecticut militia is ready to march into action after the battle of Lexington and Concord. The New Haven council refuses to unlock the arsenal, but Benedict gives them 15 minutes to do so, saying he will knock down the door if they don't.

X

The company of militia prepared for action. The men who carried ammunition loaded their muskets, others drew knives from their belts and, all thoughts of maintaining a military formation forgotten, raced off toward the arsenal on Chapel Street. Most of the crowd followed and Benedict, hastily mounting his horse, rode to the front of the entrance and took a heavy pistol from a saddle holster. He waited impassively until the running militiamen surged toward the door, then he spoke.

"Halt!"

The men ignored the order. He cocked the pistol and pointed it at those in the front. The laughter died away and several of the younger militiamen tried to edge back into the crowd.

"The Redcoats," Benedict said, "believe you're rabble. You and I must prove they're mistaken. I shall do my part by shooting any member of my command who fails to obey an order." Still pointing the pistol at the men, he drew his watch from his pocket. "No one will touch that door until the time limit has expired. If we must break it down, we'll do our work as soldiers, not as an undisciplined mob. Sergeants, form your squads! Platoon commanders will report to me."

Benedict sat erect in his saddle, his watch in his left hand. It was disgraceful that he had been compelled to use the threat of force in order to exert his authority. He was afraid David Wooster's estimate had been right; the militiamen badly needed seasoning. He hated to think of what might happen to them if the British reinforced Fort Ticonderoga before he accumulated a force sufficiently large to attack and overwhelm the skeleton garrison there.

If the Americans succeeded in capturing it, they would gain control of upper New York and western New England, and the officer in command would win fame and glory overnight.

Someone down the street started to cheer, and in a moment the whole crowd was roaring its approval. Benedict felt his temples pound; he raised his head slowly. His expression did not change when he saw the members of the city council hurrying toward him with David Wooster and Roger Sherman leading the group. The broad grin on Sherman's face told Benedict what he wanted to know.

He had won his first victory because he had been prepared to carry out his threat. The lesson was worth remembering.

The Massachusetts Committee of Safety approved Benedict's plan, granted him a commission as a colonel and authorized him to raise a force to capture Fort Ticonderoga. Two officers attached themselves to his command, Lt. Col. James Easton and Maj. John Brown, both of them as lacking in military experience as Benedict himself.

Then unexpected news from Hartford alarmed him. A volunteer committee of wealthy Connecticut citizens, acting without his knowledge, had raised a large sum of money and given it to a rival expedition. Worst of all, the leader of this force was a frontier trader, Ethan Allen, of the Vermont district. Allen and a band of his followers who called themselves the Green Mountain Boys, had engaged in countless fights with New Yorkers over the question of territorial boundaries, so most men of substance avoided them.

On the evening of May 9, he arrived at Hand's Cove. The owner of the general store to whom he had sold merchandise in past years, told him that a military force was gathering on the shore. He spurred toward the bank of the lake with Easton and Brown following close behind. Although the Green Mountain Boys had lighted no flares, Benedict recognized the burly figure of Ethan Allen even in the dark and rode toward him.

Allen was conferring with four or five of his volunteer officers. There was no surprise on his face when he glanced up and saw the short man mounted on a black stallion. "I was wondering whether you'd get here in time to join the party, Arnold," he drawled.

"You may address me as

Kennedy Pets Given to Aides

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy has given two of the family's five pet dogs to White House aides.

Pushinka, the offspring of a Soviet space dog who was presented to the late President's family by Soviet Premier Khrushchev in 1961, was given to Irvin M. Williams, the chief White House horticulturist.

And Charlie, a Welsh terrier who had been the family's main pet when they moved into the White House, was presented to Robert Foster, a Secret Service agent who had been assigned for some time to the Kennedy family.

White House officials said Mrs. Kennedy gave up the pets when she moved out of the White House Dec. 6.

Meanwhile, the former First Lady and her two children spent the weekend at her ranch-type country home at Atoka, Va., which she has renamed "Wexford." Her late husband's Irish ancestors came to the United States from County Wexford. Kennedy visited Wexford last June.

This was Mrs. Kennedy's first weekend at the retreat since her husband was assassinated in Dallas Nov. 22.

Later this week Mrs. Kennedy plans to take the children—Caroline, 6, and John Jr., 3—to spend the Christmas-New Year's holiday in Palm Beach, Fla., with other members of the Kennedy family.

Colonel Arnold," Benedict replied acidly, dismounting.

"Well, now. If we're going to be formal about this, you can call me Colonel Allen."

Hot Mocha Java for a Winter Warm-Up

One of the nicest things about a winter outing is the party around the hearth which always follows. Next time, have some of hot Mocha Java to warm the souls of skiers and skaters alike. Mocha Java is a blend of equal parts strong coffee and cocoa, sweetened to taste, a deliciously warming combination. To dress up each drink, top with whipped cream and a sprinkling of cinnamon. With the Mocha Java, serve a basket of Guilford Card Gingerbread, made from a cherished family recipe. The ingredients have been near and dear to American hearts since colonial days—molasses and brown sugar, cinnamon and ginger. The texture is what makes it so different—delicately crisp, not chewy. It is served in slim squares dusted with a mixture of sugar and pulverized coffee.

Guilford Card Gingerbread

3/4 cup butter or margarine
3/4 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 egg, well-beaten
1/2 cup molasses
1 1/2 cups sifted, enriched flour
1 1/2 teaspoons ginger
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1 tablespoon sugar
2 teaspoon pulverized coffee

Cream butter or margarine to consistency of mayonnaise. Beat in sugar and continue beating until fluffy. Stir in egg and molasses. Mix and sift flour, spices, salt and baking soda. Stir in gradually. Chill. Roll 1/4 inch thick on lightly floured board. Place on greased baking sheet. Combine sugar and pulverized coffee and sprinkle over top. Bake in moderate oven, 350° F., 20 minutes. Cut in squares.

TV Did Well on Covering Calif. Flood

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Television crews obviously had their cameras focused on the Baldwin Hills Reservoir in Los Angeles from the time the crack in its walls was first noted. The cameras stayed with the flood as shocked residents returned to slosh through the mud and wreckage that once had been their homes.

NBC hastily put together its best material for an instant news special early Sunday evening. Dramatic film showed torrents of water raging from the hilltop and sweeping through residential streets.

Homes were smashed like matchsticks and cars piled up as though pitched into some giant junkyard. The film reflected the anguish of people returning to find they had lost everything.

It was an example of network enterprise to be appreciated.

For some reason that undoubtedly has to do with script writers' reverent handling, most television dramas about long dead but famous composers, artists or writers, look and sound like old, old movies encountered on late, late shows.

Sunday night's "A Cry of Angels" which dramatized circumstances around Handel's composition of "The Messiah" fitted neatly in the mold of struggle, misunderstanding, hardship — and final triumph.

It was NBC's "Hall of Fame" Christmas program, lavishly and lovingly produced and, in color, a joy to watch.

But even the presence of Walter Slezak playing Handel all rigged out in elaborate wigs, beautiful Maureen O'Hara and some great music couldn't turn the slow-moving tale into fascinating drama.

Efforts to help the "Phil Silvers Show," which has been a sharp disappointment this season, will start this week. Elena Verdugo has been cast as his widowed sister and two youngsters have also been added to play her children. But what the show appears to need is funnier scripts, not a bigger cast.

New Idea for Holiday Teen Parties

Looking for a new way to entertain the high-school set? Try a Holiday Box Social, and share the fun of hostessing with your guests!

Have each young lady prepare a lunch or late-evening snack for two, wrapped in fancy Christmas dress with her name identified on the package top. Have the guests, on arriving at the party, place all the pretty Christmas surprise lunches under the Christmas tree until refreshment time.

In the meantime, write the name of each girl on a small piece of paper; roll up the paper with name inside and fasten roll with a bit of transparent tape. Insert each name in a balloon.

At serving time, each young man can choose a balloon and blow it up until it pops, revealing the name of his lunch partner.

Lunch boxes may be made from old cereal, shoe or candy boxes. Cummed lace paper edgings and decorative designs pasted on the boxes give them a handsome appearance. Paste-on letters can be used for the girls' names. Ribbon, sequins, small glass "jewels" and tiny Christmas ornaments are other package trims that can be used.

To make a wreath on the party box, wrap cookies in saran and fasten them to box securely with double-edged transparent tape. Flower spray decorations can be made by individually wrapping cookies and candy tightly in saran and fastening them together with wire. Use ribbon and artificial leaves to transform the "flowers" into a corsage.

And here's a hint to the girls who are preparing the lunches—wrap the party foods in transparent saran film to keep foods at their freshest and to display your handiwork with a real holiday sparkle.

Texarkana Lawyer Dies in Ohio

CINCINNATI (AP)—George F. Edwards, 51, of Texarkana, Ark., collapsed and died today while arguing a case in the U.S. Court of Appeals, Sixth Circuit.

Court officials said Edwards was appearing before a three-judge court on the appeal of a case originating in Kentucky.

Members of a rescue squad said he was dead when they arrived.

System May Hurt Oakland Raiders

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—The American Football League's meaningless division system is about to gyp the Oakland Raiders out of their rightful distinction as the league's second-best—or even best—team.

Going into the regular season's final week, the Raiders are second in the Western Division with a 9-4 record. San Diego is 10-3 and can clinch the division crown with a victory over Denver Sunday.

But look at the Eastern Division: Buffalo and Boston, with 10-3 and 7-6-1 records, are going to play off for the right to enter the championship game and, at

DOROTHY DIX

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT NEEDED

By Helen Worden Erskine

Dear Helen: Our daughter left home six months ago because we heartily disapproved of her dating a man who had been married and divorced. It was a heartbreaking time. We told her to choose between us and him. She chose him. Two weeks ago they were married. Not a single member of our family attended the wedding or reception to which she invited his and her friends. That was a blue day for us.

Now we are reconciled to the inevitable. Our family and friends want me to give a party for our daughter and new son-in-law. They feel that since my husband and I have accepted the man, they would like to meet him. Should I have such a party and if so, how should the invitation be worded? Would we be hauling down our colors by publicly approving of the marriage? Should we invite his children (he has three)? It's all very hard to face coming at this season of the year. —Despairing Mother

Dear Despairing: What better time could there be for a reconciliation party than the Christmas season—the time of Peace on Earth and Good Will to Men?

By all means give the party for your daughter and new son-in-law, plan it for Christmas week. And if the children are old enough to enjoy such a party without being a nuisance, invite them. This is short notice but parties dreamed up on the spur of the moment are usually more fun. Decorate the house with Christmas greens, have a small present on the tree for each guest and be sure that they and you and your husband dress for this extra special occasion. In other words, let your particular world know that you welcome your new son-in-law.

Emphasize this warm, friendly feeling by writing the invitations in longhand on "informal" obtainable in any stationery department. You might say, "We are happy in our daughter's new found happiness and wish to show it by giving worst, recognition as the league runner-up.

Here's the rub—each team in the AFL plays each other team twice regardless of division. The Raiders have the league's second-best record against all opposition. They deserve at least the second-place money and chance to win the championship.

Yet the accident of geography is throwing this opportunity to either of two average teams from the East.

a party (naming time and place) in honor of her and her husband. Will you add to our pleasure by joining us?" In the lower left hand corner of the "informal" write R.S.V.P. and beneath that, "Black Tie."

Remember—no matter what your inner feelings were, or may be, it is your duty from now on, if you love your daughter, to accept her husband as a member of the family. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Ten Commandments for Happiness."

Dear Helen: How long after the death of a father or mother may we send Christmas greetings to friends and relatives? Also, do we send "Thank-yous" for sympathy cards? —Faithful Reader

Dear Faithful: The day has passed when set periods of mourning are observed to the letter. The objective now is to continue life as normally as possible under the circumstances. Instead of conventional greeting cards, write little notes to special friends and relatives wishing them well at this season and, in the same note, thank them for their expression of sympathy at a time when you needed it most.

Dear Helen: My daughter, 16, and I are look alike. Everybody says, "Why you two should be selling soap, or gum, or whatnot on TV in a sister act." We'd like to but how to go about it? Can you advise us? Also, would we be paid and where would the commercial be filmed? One more question: What should I say when told I look more like my child's sister than mother? —In a Quandary

Dear Quandary: Have half a dozen good, sharp, unposed photographs taken of you and your daughter. Send them to the TV departments of the six top advertising agencies in New York. Check with the national advertising department of this newspaper for a full list.

Fees vary, according to looks and experience. Commercials are filmed in many cities. Tell your admiring friends that you'd be satisfied if you were half as pretty and sweet as your daughter.

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Last-Minute Fruitcake

Making goodies is a wonderful way to Christmas-shop at home. And, happily for the time-limits of the season, there's nothing old-fashioned about this fruitcake except the flavor. Start with Date Bread Mix, finish soon after with a homemade loaf that's perfect for giving—or serving. You can turn out individual Miniature Fruitcakes or a Fruitcake Ring for a buffet —both are just as speedily made as the traditional loaf. All are wonderfully delicious ways to say, "Happy Holidays!"

Date Fruitcake
1 package Date Bread Mix 1 cup chopped nuts
1½ cups chopped candied fruit ½ cup raisins
Prepare Date Bread Mix adding candied fruit, nuts and raisins with the dry mix. Turn into 8x4 or 9x5-inch loaf pan, greased and floured on bottom only. Bake at 350° for 70 to 80 minutes. Glaze with warm corn syrup and garnish with candied fruit. Cool thoroughly before slicing.
Miniature Fruitcakes: Bake in 24 paper-lined or greased muffin cups for 30 to 35 minutes.
Fruitcake Ring: Bake in 9 or 10-inch tube pan, greased and floured on bottom only for 55 to 65 minutes.

To Supervise Distribution of U.S. Fund

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus indicated today that he will ask the Commission on Coordination of Higher Education Finance to supervise distribution of funds under a new federal aid program.

Faubus met today with commission Chairman William E. Darby of Little Rock and director D. L. Angell, and they discussed at length the federal program which will provide an estimated $7 million for college construction during the next three years in Arkansas.

Faubus said many factors in the aid program are indefinite because the federal Education Department has not yet drawn up ground rules under which the aid money will be distributed.

Faubus said he understood that some state agency would get authority to co-ordinate the Arkansas phase of the program both for state and private institutions.

Faubus feels the authority to designate the responsible state agency will be vested in him. The governor said little at a news conference about his discussion with Darby and Angell. It was necessarily general in nature, he said, because the state has not yet determined exactly how much money it will have to match federal grants.

Fiscal authorities have estimated that from $2 million to $3 million will be available from a special construction fund set up by the 1963 legislature.

"This new federal program proves the wisdom of setting up that fund," Faubus said.

The governor also discussed today a new federal program which will provide $1.5 billion nationally for vocational-technical school construction.

"We'll definitely benefit from this money," Faubus said. "We can use matching money for new schools authorized in 1963 and because the aid program is retroactive, we may be able to recover some of the money spent on the Petit Jean school which opened at Morrilton in September."

Faubus said the state also is investigating the possibility of taking over abandoned federal facilities at Walnut Ridge and West Memphis for trade school

Anti-Union Ordinance Ruled Illegal

TRUMANN, Ark. (AP) — Municipal Judge H. L. Methvin has ruled a Trumann city anti-union ordinance unconstitutional and dismissed charges against four union men under the ordinance.

Methvin said today that he signed the orders Monday. He said the ordinance "so restricts the operation of labor unions as to violate freedom of speech."

The ordinance, similar to ones in the books in some other Arkansas cities, requires that any labor organizer pay $1,000 a year for a license to operate in the city. It carries a fine of $1,000 for each day of violation.

Methvin said that his ruling meant that Trumann would no longer be able to enforce the ordinance.

The four union men were arrested Nov. 14 and Nov. 15 at a construction site. They were released on bond and on Nov. 26 Judge Methvin heard the cases and took them under advisement.

Then the four union men filed a suit in U. S. District Court at Jonesboro asking that the ordinance be declared unconstitutional and that the union men be awarded $50,000 each in damages for violation of their civil rights.

They also asked for an injunction against enforcement of the ordinance and a hearing on that request was scheduled for today in U. S. District Court in Little Rock.

James Youngdahl, attorney for the union men, said in Little Rock today that the status of the injunction part of the suit was uncertain but that the union men intended to press their demand for damages for violation of their civil rights.

The men arrested Nov. 14 when they tried to talk to workers at a construction site were H. T. Bryant, business representative of Local 1328 of the International Hod Carriers, Builders and Common Laborers Union; Harrel Mays, business manager of Local 1816 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, and Paul W. Wood, business representative of Local 1440 of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America.

All three unions belong to the AFL-CIO. All three men live at Jonesboro.

The next day, Bill Becker of Little Rock, secretary-treasurer of the state AFL-CIO, went to Trumann and was arrested. He joined with the other three in filing the suit.

Other Arkansas cities having similar laws include Lepanto, Nashville, Marked Tree, DeWitt,

No Truth Found in Report

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today that preliminary reports he has received from the Education Department indicate that a report alleging wide-spread discrimination against Negroes in Arkansas is without foundation.

"Youngdahl's way out in left field," Faubus said.

James Youngdahl, a Little Rock attorney and law partner of former Gov. Sid McMath, is chairman of the Arkansas Advisory Committee to the Civil Rights Commission. The committee issued the report recently.

Faubus asked the Education Department to check allegations in the report and he said today preliminary investigations indicated the allegations of discrimination had no basis in fact.

Honeymoon in Congress Is Over Now

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analysis

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's honeymoon with Congress, where he served 23 years, has come to a sickening stop. He is faced, after less than a month in office, with the same challenge President John F. Kennedy never mastered.

It's how to get this dawdling Congress, the laziest in at least a generation, to do what he asks. The House didn't give him much time to ponder his dilemma. It has just hit his foreign aid program with a meat ax.

This action, even the timing, was a brutal end to the quiet spell Congress let Johnson have after Kennedy's assassination while he tried to get used to his new job.

Johnson may soon reveal whether he's going to follow the Kennedy method of soft talk with Congress, or whether he's capable of a much tougher policy that might get results where Kennedy couldn't.

Just last week the two houses had authorized a ceiling of $3.6 billion for foreign aid, a figure Johnson was willing to accept. Congress finally reached this action after months of wrangling within itself and with Kennedy. That figure was $1.3 billion less than Kennedy had originally asked and $900 million less than he had finally set as a bottom figure. But the ceiling always winds up less than a president's minimum figure anyway.

So watching Congress set a spending limit of $3.6 billion was endurable. But the ceiling is only just that. After the ceiling Congress still has to vote the actual money to be spent. And that, in turn, usually winds up less than the ceiling.

This week the House, acting before the Senate, was to vote on the spending money. To try to forestall too big a cut, Johnson called in the greatest antagonist of foreign aid in the House, Rep. Otto E. Passman, Louisiana Democrat.

Passman is chairman of a House subcommittee which passes on the money to be spent for foreign aid. Johnson, who had magical method of getting things done his way when he was in Congress, talked to him. Passman listened, went back to the Capitol, and his committee promptly made a joke of the Johnson-Passman conversation.

It decided foreign aid should get only $2.8 billion, or $800 million less than the ceiling permitted, and $1.7 billion less than Kennedy's final minimum request.

Johnson responded immediately with a statement — that this kind of cut would "put our foreign policy in a strait-jacket."

Johnson still had hopes, although perhaps slim, that the full House, when it voted, would be more generous than the Passman committee's recommendation. The recommendation wasn't final but the House vote would be.

But Monday, just about the time Johnson was signing the authorizing bill with its ceiling of $3.6 billion, the House voted, upheld Passman's committee, and decided $2.8 billion was plenty.

This was a terrible jolt but even this action by the House wasn't the last word. The Senate hadn't voted yet.

And Johnson could hope that the Senate would approve spending at or near the $3.6 billion ceiling and then, in a compromise between House and Senate, the final spending figure would be higher than that of the House even though lower than that of the Senate.

But the House hadn't been content with just cutting money from foreign aid. It added an amendment to prevent this country from giving Russia credit on the wheat it wants to buy from the United States. This was a deep wound.

Johnson fought back with another statement, saying "we cannot oppose the spread of communism and promote the growth of freedom by giving speeches." But this in its own way was just a speech. It prob-

MARACAIBO, Venezuela (AP) — The Prieto quintuplets are going home from the hospital Saturday, three months and 13 days after their birth.

Efren and Ines Prieto will take their five sons to a sprawling house in the fashionable El Paraiso neighborhood, a big change from the shoreside shack the family once occupied. Birth of the babies Sept. 8 brought money and gifts pouring in.

The quint's doctors say a graduate nurse will look after them at home, but they are thriving and need no special diet.

The first shipment arrived Monday from Spain and Algeria. It included olive oil, candy, wine, grapes, dates and a quantity of powdered milk do-

Knows About New Tactics

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

CAIRO (AP) — An old-line Communist revolutionary who found himself in an unfamiliar political situation quickly demonstrated he knows when new tactics are required.

Red China's Premier, Chou En-lai, was confronted during his state visit to Egypt with a tiny blonde bearing a bouquet and obviously expecting a response.

Chou shook her hand. Then he turned to Egyptian President Nasser and saw Nasser kiss another moppet bearing flowers.

Chou quickly grabbed his admirer and kissed her soundly. Then, he kissed Nasser's girl too.
